DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-12, drawn to a composition, classified in class 514, and several subclasses such as 3 and 730.
- II. Claims 13-50, drawn to a method comprising intradermal injection of a pain-reducing agent, classified in class 604, subclass 506.

The inventions are independent or distinct, each from the other because:

Inventions II and I are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product. See MPEP § 806.05(h). In the instant case the product can be used in a materially different processes. The method is drawn to the treatment of pain however; the product can be used for other methods such as treating bacterial, fungal or viral infections.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required

because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

In the event the applicant elects Group I or II, the following election of species is required.

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:

A. A pain reducing agent:

- i. Preservative
- ii. Antimicrobial
- iii. Disinfectant
- iv. Antioxidant

It is further required that a subspecies be chosen, which corresponds to one of the species i-iv listed above, from the following:

- a. A benzylic alcohol
- b. A benzylic acid

- c. A phenolic alcohol
- d. A phenolic acid
- e. Paraben
- f. Cresol
- g. A quinone
- h. Insulin
- i. Heparin
- j. Low mw heparin
- k. Triptan antimigraine compounds
- l. COX-2 inhibitors

The species are independent or distinct because the species and subspecies listed are structurally and functionally different chemical compounds or groups of compounds, each of which can be made and used without the other compound. Thus, each of the compounds are chemically different and possess a different reactivity from the others such that a reference anticipating one compound would not necessarily render the other obvious and to search all the different structurally diverse compounds in a single application would present a serious undue burden to the examiner.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1, 2, 5, 8, 9, 13, 14, 17, 20, 21, 31, 32, 35,

Art Unit: 1615

38 and 39 are generic. It is noted that claims 8 and 9 that are drawn to an agent "comprising an aromatic ring structure" or "is an organic alcohol", respectively, are considered generic because they encompass the scope of claims 2-7 in the case of the aromatic ring structure and claims 2-6 in the case of an organic alcohol. It is also noted that should applicant choose a species other than "preservative", claims 31-50 will be withdrawn from consideration as being drawn to a non-elected species.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species.

MPEP § 809.02(a).

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Due to the complexity of the action, the examiner submitted the Election Restriction in writing in lieu of calling applicant's attorney.
